SUBJECT: Study

25X1

- 1. The study is a jumble which no legislator will plow through. I don't want ever to sign something I can't explain or which I know the addressee will not understand.
- 2. There is no clear order of presentation. Issue No. 1 in the presentation is not one of the six main topics in the Terms of Reference (attached) but only subsection C of main topic 5. Survivability, which is main topic 6 is buried away in Issue No. 4.
- 3. I would like to see the covering letter follow the Terms of Reference so that anyone can see quickly that the agreed terms are addressed. The covering letter in serving as an executive summary should convey to the reader the substance of the report in terms he can grasp.
- 4. I think I've done this about 60% in this redraft. There is still need for some sorting out and summarizing for which I don't have time. Bob Gates will assign one of his skilled editors to finding the time. A technical advisor should be designated to help him as the writer finds a need for clarification or guidance in resorting the material.

5. Someone needs to be assigned to deal with which Boland explicitly raises in his August

6. There is a very good model of what I want in Carlucci's letter of 2 November to Boland attached. There is also some good direct phraseology.

William J. Casey
